PRESS AND TRIBUNE.

VOLUME XII.

FRIDAY MORNING, DECEMBER 3, 1858. " Free State Outrages in Kansas," North think that the Free State men of Kansas are guilty of any outrages upon the per violence, has gone by; hence the telegraphic item in relation to Montgomery, in this morn-ing's paper, will pass for nought. If Captain Monigomery is in the field with his troop it may be considered certain that he and they are acting merely in self-defence. What Adstration exigencies there may be to reitory, cannot be told except by those in the racy there can be no doubt; but does he not and abandoned criminal charges in Kansas? We shall see.

We give Father Chiniquy the benefit of our columns in which to explain away the charges nade against him in our paper of yesterday factory, when we compare it with the vote of his parishioners and the known changes in no fault with him for an honest avowal of his political notions; nor for any political hing in which he may choose to indulge; but when any professed stickler for liberty of conscience, descends to the supan end, whatever may be thought of his hon-esty. Father Chiniquy's letter will be found on the next page.

the Protestant Episcopal Pastoral Aid Society, in vindication of that organization from the attack of the Church Record, may be found on the next page. We beg to assure the writer, and all others interested, that in the brief reference which we made yesterday to the rival organiztions, it was no part of our intention to take sides with either.

Rise in Real Estate. We notice by the California papers that a moreogent in real estate has been commenced in San Francisco, which is even more active than say that has occurred in the Atlantic cities. The San Francisco Herald of November 5th says that it has advanced twenty per cent, is rules within a month. Last switch as the sad which are said to the best description, and the plan adopted an excellent and approved one. The rail is best characterised as the "2." pattern, if our readers will imagine that letter in the above position representing a cross sec-Sik says that it has advanced twenty per cent. In raise within a month. Last spring a property was sold at $18,000, which recently brought $25,000, each. A piece of real estate, which sold with difficulty for $14,000 on the $25d September, readily changed hands since the 1st of November for $250,000. Other instances are given by the Herald equally striking. Capitalists all over the country seem more eager now to buy than to sell real estate.—Philadelphia Press.

REFURLICAN TRIUMPR.—The Republican candidate for Councilman in the Sixth Ward, Mr. Daniel Daggett, was elected on Tuesday, by 21 majority, over Mr. Wm. Wedemeyer, the regular Democratic nominee. Mr. Daggett is an old citizen, as honest man and a true Republican. He will be a valuable accession to the Board of Counciliors.—Milwaukee Sentinel, 2d.

nmenced. The first rail was laid with due ceremony yesterday, and is inaugurating a new era in our city. The event must be considered as an important and interesting one.

Horse railroads have become to cities what the steam railroad is to the country at large.

The rapid communication of the latter is only partially reproduced in the former; but the case of travel, the triumph over all the "powers of mud," and other hindrances lo locomotion, in criting at all assessment the same interests. in giving stall seasons the same iron path, are advantages common to both. A year or two hence, and no city in this country, of any extent territorially will be without the horse railroad.

We fully believe that humanity was grateful for the first omnibus, and hailed the well cushioned and well appointed "bus" as an institu-tion of no common order among conveniences, but the omnibus is following its predecessor, the stage couch, into the retirement of country life. At a late sale of omnibusses in New York the vehicles were disposed of for a mere song compared with their cent, and as the New York compared with their cost, and as the New York Tribune says, their day is emphatically over in that city, for street lines, the quick moving horse cars succeeding them in the public favor. The Horse Railroad enterprise will be especi-

Lectures on Ivaly.—Rev. J. J. Marks.—Dear Sir: It has been with very great interest and pleasure that we have listened to your course of icotures recently delivered in the First Fresbyterian Church of this city, upon the Holy Land, and Oriental Countries—Asia Minor, Palestine, Egypt, &., &c.

We are informed that you were also a traveler in Italy and other portions of the East, and a resident for some time at Rome, and from your position there as Chaplain you must be acquainted with, and in possession of many of the facts and curiodities and much information which would be both interesting and valuable to our citizens. We would therefore respectfully, invite and urge you to arrange another course of lectures upon such subjects as your own judgment will dictate, and at such a time and place as will best sail your convenience. We feel confident that such a course will meet the views of the great majority of our citizens, and will greatly oblige yours.

The Shooting of a Lake Captain by Deputy U. S. Marshal.

DEFROIT, Dec. 2.—There is considerable citement relative to the late shooting of U. Harry Jones, of the brig Concord, by Deputy Anshal Tyler, of this city, while serv U. S. Marshal Tyler, of this city, while serving a writ on the Gonord.

The brig was at Port Sarnia, a Canadian port, at he time. Tyler bounded the vessel, and Canadian to the was beyond the surfaction of U. S. officer, the former shot him dead. Tyler brought the body to Delroit and gave himself up to the authorities and is now awaiting examination.

The people at Port Sarnia are greatly excited at this outrage in their waters, and a requisition under the Ashburton treaty will probably be made, and Tyler will be taken to Canada for trial. He declares that the pistol went off sectentially. The Lake men and the Canadians are intensely excited over the sfair.

—Just previous to the recent election in Illinois the Chicago Press, a Republican paper, published a statement, charging that the slaves of Senstor Douglas, held in Louisians, are overworked, ill-field, hedgy losthed, and otherwise nagicatually treated, and gave Mr. Slidell, of this State, an eatherity for the statement.

The whole story was an election canord. Mr. Slidell made no such statement. Of that we are faily advised, and the facts alleged are an appearphel as the authority. country," the three thousand spectators broke out into vehement appliane. But this was nothing to the actitemptiques. But this was nothing to the actitemptiques. But this was nothing to the active property of the play. At the words, "Repeat my mane to your children, and tell them that war is holy, if a stranger menaces the hard that Heaven gave us as our own," an universal shout resounded through the theatre, which was repeated as the word, "Let no one outrage our land," and at the phrase, "Our country and our God are one and everything." The actress was obliged to repeat these exciting sentences three times; the enthusiasm of the andience was unbounded; handkerchiefs and hats were thrown upon the the stage; and all acose clappings their hands, and shouting with excitad delight. Ristori decisimed the sublime words, (sublime in the original, however weak they appear in the translation,) magnificently imparting an expression truly Italian. She was called before the curtain twenty five times.

The court and ministers were present at the performance, and could judge for themselves whether the idea of Italian independence be of trifling or great importance.

This is the first demonstration for the last ten years that has been so general. Thanks, then, to the progress of the great actional idea, and thanks also to Rustort, the divine light of insellingence, who, beaming upon the stage, revives our weary limbs, brothen and depressed with so long and heavy griet.

parts of the State for many years, as a transport of the contributions of many that it should have been ofganized long ago.

It is "salled for"—a pretty good evidence of which is the fact of its organization, and that it is enlisting the the interest and active co-operation of many members of the Episcopal Guurch, both elergymen and lay men, in different parts of the State, who have never lived in "Ohio." It is called for by the interests of evangelical truth and the true principals of the Protestant Episcopal Church in her true character as opposed to Tractarian and semi-Romish error. It is called for because prominent and liberal laymen in the diocese have withheld their contributions from the Diocesan Missionary Fund, because they could not feel confident that those contributions would go towards the spread of sound dootrine and the aimple truth as it is in Jesus. We claim that it is just and right that a channel should be opened through which the contributions of these men, and all who sympathizs with them, may be applied to the spread of the Gospel of Christ. This right is universally acknowledged in the Protestant Episcopal of the Gospet of Unitaria.

And I do trust scough in the good asses and self-love and respect of the people of this country, to hope that before long, every American citizen will unite his liftinence to his neighbor, in order to break the chains of the slaves. another cycle is soon to be added to the fathomeleas immeanity of electristy, and another vear, which is but as a day with its Supreme Director, is approaching its twilight, soon to set in darkness and soon to be succeeded by a bright and joyous morrow. Inseffably sad are the teaching of the season; it seems as if death were in the house when we consider that the last of the months in fading away forever. It is the type of death, of the resurrection, and of immortality; it can bring balm to the religious mind as it prefigures the victory of the last of earth, and a far-off happy future where we shall be for ever blessed. And it has in its storms and tempests soon to be succeeded by vernal gladess, its lesson to be impressed on mortal hearts. Let gloomy clouds of sorrow comes and tempests soon to be succeeded by vernal gladess, its lesson to be impressed on mortal hearts. Let gloomy clouds of sorrow comes and tempests soon to be succeeded by vernal gladess, its lesson to be impressed on mortal hearts. Let gloomy clouds of sorrow comes and tears fall like rain, the San of Hope will soon effaigent shine and bring joy back again all fresh and pure as are the dews before they were exhaled to feed the terrors of the storm. Mourner, take heed and be of comfort, for one life's drear waste, though tempest-tossed and wrecked, there is at hand "a haven where we would be," a friendly light at hand and land shead!

And look again, through blinding mists of snow and howling winds! Tottering with age and infirmity; a hage isole in his hand hy way of staff; his flowing looks covered with alsest and studded with gems of frost sparking like diamends; muffield in taitered farm and bearing on his head a fantastic crown of evergreens. December approaches—the Lear of the year! He has given all to his children; to Spring its dower of floral beauty; to Sammer its wealth of teeming fields, and to Autumn its full revenues of godien fruits. These, his ungrateful progeny have enjoyed in wasteful rot, and now the saged sire—boreft of all, tiny tends Pacific ward. From Chicago to Sew York was without notable incident. No rotten ratiroad bridge had quite resched the point of dissolution, no wild winds blew us from our track, no rashing forrents undermined the embankment beneath us, and we were delivered at our point of destination per contract, out time. Our tickets, by "Star of the West," called for steerage accommodations, vir. berthe in forward cabin, with mastrasa and pillow, (the latter of cork—a life-preserver), and rations same as crew. It was seriously questioned whether we lived as well as Jack Tar—be that as it may, our bill of fare was simple—pilot bread, tea and coffee, Chicago mess beef, sail pork, beans, Indian mush, potatoes, rice, fresh roast beef once or twice, and apple-sance duce on the trip—the whole spread upon hanging tables and with his service of plate throughout. Many grumbled at the meagerness of our evisites and appointments, but taking into consideration the comparative price with which we were bought, or more property, perhaps, cold—steerage $125; cabin $250; 1st cabin $400—our isle was not without excuse. The Atlantic Panama Ratiroad and Pacific Steamship Companies are at present unlimited mercenary monopolies, and nothing can be expected of them except the utmost tension of the public palience. The rates of pas sage are outrageous, and can only be corrected by that opposition which we trust will soon be successfully maintained. No cos should attempt the steerage without being fully disposed and prepared to forego both delicevy and convenience of life during the passage. The place of slumber, is, of course, postiferous and intolerable to those secustomed to breathe a pure aimosphere, but half the world inhale foutd air during the night in the usually ill-ventilated, also an india robber oversuit for wet weather, and sleep on deck without damage to lung or larynx. You won't get cold, it your general babit of bodily life is correct. As to food, the less you est while going through the ordeal of seasicknessa, the better,

The price of bribery advanced considerably for the remainder of the voyage, on account of the increased risk in purveying from the cabin to the steerage.

But our journey is nearly ended; the Golden Gate is in sight, and as we wind through its picturesque and rocky defile, the issue of these notes shall cease, for we will not add to the ill-digested and contradictory mass of information concerning California, the result of superficial observation and immature judgment. Hereafter, when time and experience shall have rendered us somewhat familiars with the Golden Siate, and we can more truly say "Eureka," our pen may be resumed.

"Inspector" writes to the New York Courier and Enquirer, under date of Weshington, Nor. 20:—Gen. Lane yesterday introduced to members of the Cabinet, his colleague is prospective from the proposed State of Oregon. Hon. Deliason Smith was somewhat known in Federal politics, fourtien years ago, as a Tyler man frem principle. He went about the country for a limited space frequently imploring the people to do justice to John Tyler. After the people had done it, Mr. Smith, from that time more commonly denominated Delusion Smith, went forth upon his travels into unknown countries upon a diplomatic mission. Returning therefrom he retired to the West, from which he has again returned to the Capital with well earned honors. Nowithstanding the grotesque abaurdity of his former course, Mr. Smith is a gentleman of admitted talents and of estimable character. He is, or was, one of the most impressive popular speakers, I ever heard. I have no doubt that he and Gen. Lane will be admitted to their seats early in the coming session.

Machinery for Manniacturing Paper Hangings.

The method of cylinder printing, as applied to the manniacture of paper-hangings, has wonderfully reduced the price as well as improved the quality of that arisele. Nor is it all difficult to see how the cylinder method abould bring about a lower rate of cost than the block method. Calico printing has borne witness to an analogous fact, and, indeed, the analogy is very close throughout. In the one case, cotton, and in the other, paper, is made in one continuous length, and in both cases this length is wound round a beam or roller; in both cases there are engrared cylinders, as many as there are engrared cylinders, as many as there are to be colors, and each having a device of its own; there as many troughs as eyiliders of colors: the cylinders feed themselves with color, but in huch a way as to take ap the color on the raised parts in one case, but on the sunk parts in the other; the endiess we is drawn in between rollers, and made to pass over the color-weited cylinders in succession; the complete pattern is seen to be printed by the time the material leaves the machine, and the printed strip underroes a rapid drying process. — Merchants' Magazine. [From the N. T. Evening Post.]

We have before us the Ceredo Crascent, a weekly newspaper printed at the new town founded by emigrants from New England and other northern states, principally mechanics, on the banks of the bilio, near the confinence of the Rig Sandy with that giver. It has already more than five hundred inhabitants, yet its name is not to be found in any Gazetteer of the United States, so recently has it been changed from a solitude of the forest to a thriving village. Tills has been done in the space of a single year—a year which has by no means been lavorable to new entleprises. In more prosperous times the new colony would probably have acquired three times the population it now has.

In the Crascent we find an advertisement in which Caredo is called "Thayer's New Town in the Oil Dominion," and a long account is given of its advantages in situation, soil and climate. It stands at the head of low water awigation, in a country fertile in wheat and maize, and well adapted to the culture of fruit, with beds of cannel coal in its immediate neighborhood, and the iron furmaces of Kentucky and Ohio not far distant. The Virginia Central Railroad will here strike the Ohio; and if that never should be made, the Ohio itself gives the people of the place the easiest imaginable access to all the markels of the west. The Ceredo Cruscent has been established a little more than a year, and slaredy makes its boasts of a large circulation. The inhabitants have already their church and their school-house, as a matter of course; and a litterary institution has been formed, with a reading-room and a place for the delivery of public lectures.

The town was founded by a company, after the manner of the settlements made a few years since in Kansas. A steam engine of 125 horse-power, the property of this company, smokes in a huge publiding, and moves various machines for awing, planing, turning, and other purposes. Men are very indigning cellars, shallowing houses, and evelling streets; the p MEN AND BOYS' WEAR. The Yankees in Virginia. LOW FOR CARM.

Capt. R. B. Marcy is now in this city, under reders for special duty.

The expedition of Capt. Marcy from Port Bridger to New Mexico, last winter, on which he was dispatched by Gen. Johnston for the procurement of horses, mules, and cattle for the army at the Capt. thereing Lowdon Cardini Gin.—The Original and all Landon Gin Imported. This Gin, distilled in Lon in from sound Barley, under the surveillance of the Reine Revise Laws, is dedoately flavored with a thotax of the Indian Juniors Betty, and some of the most valuable searcatives of the Vagetable Kinsdop, rendering it is to claim of the most cannet useded in mos. the purse and settes stimulant or disarted think in use.

[Bir a delicious tonio, of a soft and delicate flavor, different strictly from any other Gin, and devoid of that herb, and of soft and devoid of the control ticians. FIELD, BENEDICT & CO., was dispatched by Gen. Johnston for the procurement of horses, mules, and cattle for the army at Camp Scott, was one of the most remarkable on record. The route he pursued, which lay in a pretty direct line across the Unity and Rocky Mountain chains, had been traversed before, in summer time, by hunters and trappers, but had always been set down, even by those hardy men, as impracticable in the winter season. The old mountaineer, Bridger, pronounced the expedition impractible. Capt. Marcy set out from Fort Bridger, however, on the 27th of November last, with forty soldiers, twenty-two citizens, thirty days rations, and sixty-five mules, and reached Fort Massachusetts, New Mexico-Gol miles from Camp Scott—with the loss of but a single man, on the 17th of January, performing the journey in the depth of the Winter.

Immediately after entering the mountains the snow became so deep that it was impossible for the animals in their paided state to make any progress through it. Forty men were accordingly placed in advance of the mules to make a track for them. This course, which was pursued from day to day, enabled the party slowly to force its way up the western slope of the mountains; but the snow rapidly increased in depth as they advanced, when, as they approached the summit of the mountains, it lay about five feet deep upon the level, and here the leading men were obliged to crawl on their hands and knees to prevent sinking to their necks. our Eyesight. All this has been done without creating any alarm among the friends of what are called the "domestic institutions" of Virginia. The Creacrat tells as that at first the people of the neighborhood seemed to view the settlement with some distrust, but that this is no longer the case, and Ceredo has now the cordial good will of its neighbors. No proclamation has been issued warning these enigrants from the soil of Virginia, nor has the Governor of the State been even asked to do what was at one time threatened—to order out the militia to dispossess these peatlent emissaries from the land of abolitionism. The Virginians, with Governor Wise at their head, seem, on the other hand, rather glad to get a colony of industrious men and good mechanics on their western border, whose example may attract others to the same region, and condense on the Ohio a be it of thriving towns of the utmost importance to the o their necks.

The progress of the party was necessarily very tow, and although they labored most faithfully very day from daylight till dark, yet they advanced only 19 miles in five days. The animals, finding no forage, except the pine leaves, became caker continually. Many or them had died, and hose remaining were reduced to a state bordering in starvation. The majority of the men had worn in their shoes before one half the journey was erformed, and owing to their exposed condition, everal had their feet badly frozen, rendering it. This meagre and unwholesome diet, with men who were performing the most intensely severe labor that the human system is capable of sustaining, soon told upon them, and after a few days they became weak and emaciated, while the amount of labor they could perform sensibly diminished. Yet this little band of excellent soldiers, all of whom had volunteered for this severe service, performed the hard task allotted them, cheerfully and with alearity, and no one of them, cheerfully and with alearity, and no one of them, during the entire march, ever uttered a nurmar, or manifested the slight of the sewing towns of the utmost importance to the interests of Virginia, yet such as Virginia can be what is now taking place in Virginia is the beginning, perhaps, of that peaceful process insubordination. The brave men had undertaken the difficult and dangerous service for the landable purpose of procuring food and animals for the comrades they had left at Common them. W. T. charter, but it is extremely difficult to detect their invasions.

Some of the lotteries are conducted on a gigantic scale. One of them expends about $200,000 yearly in advertising and other expenses, draws over 600 schemes and issues tickets to the amount of $200,000,000 yearly. The total amount of schemes published by all the lotteries in the United States is probably not less than $500,000,000.

The proprietors profess to distribute all of this vast amount in prizes, but it is supposed that not over $10,000,000 is actually paid out. Not more than one-third of the whole scheme is even printed, and of that, one-eighth is soid, on an average—making the receipts from a scheme of $200,000, about $10,000, of which the proprietors receive 15 per cent. clear profit—the rest going to agents and to defray expenses. Most lotteries issue a scheme every day; and, as the profits are pretty uniform and steady, it will be readily seen that the business pays enormous dividends.

The lotteries do not pay as much or as large the largest prize issued was $35,000. The prize now generally will not average more than $5,000. In American lotteries the capital prize is generally not only not sold, but is not even printed one in a hundred times. The lotteries in this country are now fushed with power, and will be made even stronger by the combination of all of them except one in Kentacky and one in Delaware, in the hands of a noted lottery and policy dealer in this city. Unless strong efforts are made in the South to regulate the lotteries now existing there, and to prevent the rechartering of them, the mischief resulting therefrom will rapidly increase year after year. OMERCIAL.—The Whest market to-day was perfect stand-still. There was an active dedf of both No. 1 Red and No. 2 Spring; but ers and sellers were 2@3c apart. About 3,000 spring changed hands, at 60@62c in store for 2 Spring, and 47c for Rejected. There were drm—holders having advanced their views con-meterably, owing to the stoppage of some mills in the interior and the light stock on hand. The receipts of Hogs to-day were very light, both of Live and Dreased. The Chicago, Bur-lington and Quinor train came with only about sight car-loads. Under a good demand by pack-ers and shippers, the excitement noted yester-ly continued, and the market advanced 10@ 15: more. Live Hogs sold at a range of $4.30@ 1.75 gross, for light, and $565.30 for heavy.

$7.5gcos, for light, and $5.50.50 for heavy. Dressed Hogs sold at $5.50@5.70 for light, and $5.75@6.25 for ordinary to heavy.

This advance is looked upon by cautious operators as a mere temporary "apurt," which has few days will subside; and at the close, bayers seemed disposed to hold off. Unless, however, the receipts became heavier than they have been for a few days back, the market will doubtless two allows to Chapters.

the Prevision market is still from Mess Pork is in active inquiry at $16, but holders ask $16.25@16.50. A sale of 500 bbls Milwaukee Mess was made, deliverable there, at $16. The St. Louis papers of yesterday quote a sale of 500 bbls Mess Pork, deliverable in this city in March, at $17. There is a good demand for Green Meats, and we note a sale made by a city packer of all bis season? Green Sides packers. Sides, noted yesterday on private terms, were noted at 6c. A sale of Milwaukee packed Hams was made at $15 per bbt. Lard was in very active inquiry, and closed very firm at 10%c. A sale of 200 tree Milwaukee Lard was made at 10%, and a few small loss of city at 10%@10%c. mostly asking 10%. seinnatti to-day Hogs were duller—the

Bittor Press and Triester:

The letter of the Secretary of the Pa Aid Society published in your paper yests defends the new organization on the groun the contributions through the old Board "not go towards the, spread of sound do and the simple truth as it is Jesus."

Now, Messra, Editors, it is just such untian assumptions as this which makes the Society so obnexious to most Episcopal The Socretary is but a young man, and it came into the diocese, and is it becoming it to say that Bishop Whitshouse, Dr. Chase, Strong and Dr. Dresser, who constitute the Board, do not desire "the spread of the tas it is in Jesus?" Is it charitable or kind Board, do not desire "the apread of the a as it is in Jesus" Is it charitable or kind such men as Revi. Mr. Warner et Peru. I Mr. Goodale of Genesso, Rev. Our Catholic Irish Paupers-No. 3. Editors Press and Tribunes:

Arguments for the restoration of the Irish poor to the eleemosynary care of the Church might be multiplied ad infinitum; but this were a useless waste of words, since the Church Herself, and most others concerned, so much desired, and most others concerned, so much desired, and most others concerned, so much desired, and the immense physical and moral effects would be so obvious. Our social relations and intercourse with this class of persons would be vastly improved by the measure. What the Church lacks—if indeed an institution of such vast resources can lack means for relieving her own poor—would be readier made up by Protestants, and piaced at har disposal, instead of being drizzled out in the usual uncertain, haphasard manner among a clamorous multitude, of whom the docors and almoners know little or nothing. The pastors and their sesistants know, or ought to know, their own flocks; and the well appointed bauds of priests, brothers and sisters of charity, can certainly do this bu-
